Plain Facts

General Rules

Responsibilities under the Lanterman Act

IPP Process

Needs to be an IPP meeting before the Regional Center changes services.

MY MEETING

Regional Centers send a Notice of Proposed Action with timelines.

Appeals Procedure - Fair Hearings

There are steps to appeal Regional Center decisions.

Talk to your Area Board or Clients Rights Advocate.

Plain Facts

General Rules

Regional Centers may not pay for services if other funding is available

MediCal, Medicare, CHAMPUS, private insurance, California Children's Service, IHSS

Regional Centers can require a person to appeal a denial unless they think the appeal won't work.

TO APPEAL: Show how service you want is outside the coverage or funding from other insurance or agencies.

Plain Facts

General Rules

Transportation services are limited

Use least expensive transportation that meets needs.

If people can use regular transportation, they will be assisted to do that instead of using special transportation.

Plain Facts

General Rules

Regional Centers cannot fund unproven therapies or devices.

TO APPEAL: Show the service wanted is not experimental and that there is “proof” it works for the person.

Plain Facts

General Rules

Use the service provider who costs less

Unless it is a more “restrictive” service than what is now used.

TO APPEAL: Show that the provider they want you to use cannot meet the IPP goals or needs as well as another provider you want.

Plain Facts

Early Start

Eligibility is restricted

“High risk” infants, toddlers no longer eligible.

Will be eligible for new state-funded prevention program available at Regional Centers.

Limited to case management, information & referral to other agencies.

TO APPEAL: Show child can qualify under another category, like an “established risk condition.”

Plain Facts

Early Start

To get Early Start services due to a developmental delay:

1. Child is under 24 months, delay must be at least 33% in one developmental area.
2. Child is over 24 months, delay must be 50% in one developmental area or 33% in two areas.

TO APPEAL: Make sure assessments are thorough, accurate to show kind and extent of delays.

Plain Facts

Early Start

Regional Centers no longer fund services not required by federal government, such as:

Day care

Diapers

Respite not related to developmental delay

Interpreters/translators

Most medical services

(except for durable medical equipment)

1 ✓
3

TO APPEAL: None under Early Start Program. Can access these services if child is eligible under Lanterman Act.

Plain Facts

Early Start

A Priority!

1. Pay for integrated neighborhood preschools with Regional Center funded supports,
2. Not a specialized infant development programs for children with special needs

TO APPEAL: Must show child's needs can only be met using a "segregated" infant development program.

Plain Facts

Early Start

Use Private Insurance

1. Families are required to ask private insurance or health care plans to pay for medical services.
2. Governor vetoed $50 million from Early Start budget with expectation that First Five program will cover costs.

Plain Facts

Services & Therapies (Non-Medical)

Group Training for Parents with Behavioral Intervention

At the IPP/IFSP, Regional Centers are required to consider group trainings instead of in-home parent training.

TO APPEAL: Show why group training will not help. Example: child's behaviors pose danger (self-injury, running away, harm to others). May need to show lack of classes in parent's primary language or that parent will not benefit from group training.

Plain Facts

Services & Therapies (Non-Medical)

Intensive Behavior Intervention and ABA limited

- Only from vendors who use “proven practices” that promote positive social behaviors.
- Parents must participate.
- Cannot be used for respite, day care or school (only for emergency crisis).
- Services discontinued when goals are reached.
- Evaluated by Regional Center every 6 months.

TO APPEAL: Show how these services are improving child’s social interactions, learning, etc.

Plain Facts

Services & Therapies (Non-Medical)

Camp, social recreation, educational services, non-medical therapies stopped.
