CDER Revisions-History

REASON FOR THE 2014 REVISION

The manual presents the 2014 version of the Diagnostic Element of the CDER. The diagnostic codes to be entered in the appropriate section should be selected from the 10th Revision of the International Classification of Diseases (ICD-10) set of codes and the fifth edition of the American Psychiatric Association's Diagnostic and Statistical Manual of Mental Disorders (DSM5) set of codes. The use of DSM5 codes will replace the use of the DSM-IV codes. Some changes will ensure the data items collected are in alignment with the DSM5 changes and other changes have been made to ensure compliance with current nomenclature. In particular, item 11 (Intellectual Disability), Item 23 (Autism Spectrum Disorder), Item 33 (Other Developmental Disabilities), and Item 50 (Psychiatric Disorders) have been revised. The changes were implemented at all regional centers.

REASON FOR THE 2011 REVISION

This manual presents the 2011 version of the Diagnostic Element of the CDER. The diagnostic codes to be entered should be selected from the 10th Revision of the International Classification of Diseases (ICD-10) set of codes, which replaces the ICD-9 set of codes. The changes were implemented at all regional centers.

REASON FOR THE 2008 REVISION

Certain items in the Diagnostic Element of CDER were revised (in 2008) to be in compliance with current nomenclature. In particular, Item 23 has been revised to allow reporting of conditions representing variants of Pervasive Developmental Disorder / Autistic Spectrum of disorders. Additionally, Item 33 specifying the presence of a qualifying disability other than Mental Retardation, Cerebral Palsy, Epilepsy, and Autism was modified. The changes were implemented at all regional centers and developmental centers.
