

California Department of Developmental Services presents the Federal Home and Community-Based Services Settings Self-Assessment Trainings

The California Department of Developmental Services, in partnership with Public Consulting Group, is offering training opportunities on the Home and Community-Based Services (HCBS) Settings Self-Assessment Process.

All five trainings will be available in-person and with webinar access, and will provide stakeholders with information and support while taking part in the Self-Assessment Process. Each training will review the same material.

HCBS Settings Final Rule | Self-Assessment Training

This training will focus on the expectation for completing the required self-assessment, walking through the intent of the questions, and strategies to ensure input from individuals served and their families are included throughout.

Any individuals, community-based organizations, etc. who want to share information about the Final Rule and the assessment process within their communities are encouraged to attend.
