Important notice from the Department of Developmental Services about

In-Person Regional Center Monitoring Visits

What to Know

Regional centers are going to restart visiting people living outside of their family home to make sure they are healthy and safe.

What's Changing

To protect you from COVID-19, regional centers stopped doing in-person visits during the pandemic and checked in with you remotely.

Now that many people are vaccinated and not as many people are getting sick from COVID-19, regional centers will restart in-person visits for individuals living outside of their family home. Regional center staff will follow COVID-19 safety guidelines when visiting you.

Questions?

Please contact your local regional center. If they cannot help you, please email DDSC19@dds.ca.gov.
