Project funded by State of California through Department of Developmental Services

The PAVE Service Outcomes Project

P: Person-centered

A: Advocacy

V: Vision

E: Education

The aim of the project is to develop, pilot and test the feasibility, reliability, and validity of a new system that will:

- Support people to experience better quality of life outcomes – “to live their best lives”
- Gather robust data on quality and outcomes
- Provide access to that data at different levels to inform service development

The PAVE Service Outcomes System

Software system

- That provides helpful tools, supports planning and monitors outcomes in a person-centered way and at an individual level.

Training system

- For people receiving services, Direct Support Professionals, families, and those responsible for leading, providing, coordinating and approving/funding services.

Validation system

- For evaluating the quality, accuracy and reliability of the data gathered from the software system and makes sure the views and lived experiences of people themselves are captured.

The PAVE system aims to ...

- Be useful to all those who use it at every level
- Be easy for people to use
- Support people to be as independent and self-determined as possible
- Provide services with the information they need to provide the best possible support (and the best possible outcomes)

AND

Feedback from final meeting with the panel – November 12th

This is a huge project and when all is said and done there is so much that could come out of it that is of benefit to other states.

As a parent, I think it is key to find out whether we are providing the services people actually want....I know we have the National Core Indicators but I think this gets a little deeper than that... I look forward to this and I do hope that it spreads to other States as well.

It is a great project to be involved in. Very ambitious ..... I would love to find out how to get updates and stay engaged on an ongoing basis.

I am going to assume that this is going to be successful.... I would love to see this be available and that shovel ready things can come out of this for the rest of the county.

I really look forward to hearing about the results as I think they could be really transformative.

In their summary of the final meeting, the NQF team concluded:

“Panelists shared that they were impressed by the work CCLN has done with the PAVE system, expressing excitement and hopes for the project's success.

They highlighted several key considerations around equity, including the need to address disparities among individuals without active family caregivers, and how factors such as dual Medicare and Medicaid eligibility, comorbid physical disabilities, and geographic variations can impact the measured outcomes.

Panelists emphasized the importance of planning for the translation of the system to other states and acknowledged the ambitious nature of the PAVE project, noting its potential to achieve significant outcomes”.
