

LOIS: Life Outcomes Improvement System

A new online system for the future of developmental services

LOIS will be a modern, person-centered online system designed to improve how Californians with intellectual and developmental disabilities access and manage services. LOIS will better support regional centers, state operated facilities, service providers, and the Department to provide services and improve life outcomes.

What can LOIS do?

- Replace outdated technology and improve case and financial management
- Enhance communication among families, service coordinators, and the Department
- Provide individuals with better tools to make informed choices

How will LOIS work better for you?

- Access your service and budget information anytime, anywhere
- Share updates and documents with your service coordinator
- Communicate more easily with your regional center
- Use new tools to make service and support decisions
- Track the status of communications and processes
- Trust that your data is protected under California privacy laws
